Airbnb shows hospitality by partnering with Food Shift

Dear <<First Name>>,

Last week Airbnb hired Food Shift to manage the recovery and redistribution of surplus food from their four-day, 800 person all-staff convention in San Francisco.

Despite the wind and rain, we worked closely with Off the Grid, La Cocina, Paula le Duc and other vendors to ensure 1,855 lbs. was kept out of the landfill and redistributed to food assistance agencies through Food Runners.

This is a huge milestone for Food Shift as it moves us one step closer to our dream of providing green jobs in the recovery and redistribution of surplus food.

Food recovery has not yet been made a standard part of event management but Food Shift is looking to change that. Airbnb has demonstrated leadership and a commitment to the community and the environment by having the forethought to hire our team to make sure their abundance was shared with neighbors in need. We hope more companies will follow in their path.

We're excited about developing and expanding this new aspect of our work and we're grateful to all the partners who made last week's recovery possible.

Thank you for your support!
