A note from Dana...

Reducing food waste and child hunger one plate at a time with our new partner Satisfeito

Dear <<First Name>>,

Restaurant food waste is hard to tackle as much of it is plate waste - food that has already been served, picked at and partially eaten. There is no way to capture this and redirect it to the hungry. Food Shift, in partnership with Satisfeito, has a plan to alleviate child hunger and prevent food waste by encouraging restaurants to offer smaller dishes to customers. A portion of the restaurant's financial savings from these smaller meals will be donated to Food Shift to expand our food recovery and donation program in Oakland schools.

The partnership is a way for restaurants to cut down on waste, demonstrate their commitment to environmental and social justice, and directly contribute to feeding hungry children in Oakland. For customers, it's an opportunity to resist overeating and contribute to a good cause.

Food Shift is looking to recruit Bay Area restaurants and we need your help! Who serves the biggest portions in the Bay Area? Let us know! This is a tangible way restaurants and customers can step up to the plate to address the hunger and food waste problem. Please contact us with any restaurants ideas or leads.

Stay tuned for updates on the program and thank you for your support!
